ROSH HASHANAH
Important Jewish Holiday Begins Monday.

There Will Be Impressive Ceremonies at Temple Israel on That Occasion.

The autumnal circle of Jewish holidays will commence with the feast of Rosh Hashanah, Monday night, September 4. The series of holidays which this will inaugurate are all of a strictly religious character, and are distinguished from the other Jewish feasts which are mainly historic. This season, called the Days of Penitence, is observed with marked solemnity; it is a period of spiritual revival, though unaccompanied by any signs of boisterous religiosity.
All Jews, no matter how indifferent, during this period grow more responsive to the call of their religion.

Rosh Hashanah is Hebrew for new year, and Tuesday will be the religious new year according to Jewish calculation, ushering in the year 5660. The observance will commence on Monday night, at 7:30, at which hour Temple Israel, on Broadway and Seventh street, will throw open its sacred portals for the resumption of divine services. Temple Israel has one of the finest choirs in the city, and needless to say, some unusually good sacred music will be heard within its walls on the Feast of the New Year.

There is an ignorance prevalent among the people of our city regarding Jewish matters which it is high time to dispel. Many are even under the impression that non-Jews were not permitted to enter a Jewish temple. Considering the fact that Temple Israel is always anxious to welcome all visitors and friends, and has provided ample accommodation for all possible worshippers, it is time that our people get rid of their erroneous notions.

Rabbi H. G. Enelow will deliver a discourse on Monday night, his subject being: "The Song of Autumn." Tuesday morning the service will begin at 9:30, and the rabbi will preach a sermon on "The Rhapsody of the Festive Trumpet." Everybody is invited to attend these services.

CITIZENS WARRANTED

They are Charged With Suffering a Nuisance in Town.

Health Officer Milam Swears On the Warrant Before Justice Winchester.

Health Officer Milam went before Justice Winchester yesterday afternoon and swore out warrants against twelve well-known citizens on a charge of suffering or maintaining a nuisance. The nuisance complained of is an alleged stagnant pool of water between Twelfth, Thirteenth and Jefferson and Monroe, and has stood there for months, always having a source of great complaint.

The city as well as the county authorities have failed to do anything to abate the nuisance and several days ago the board of health went out and took a look at it, and then served notice on the adjacent property owners, their agents, or the occupants of the houses. The pond of water is still there, and the following were yesterday warranted and summoned to appear before Justice Winchester this morning at 10 o'clock:
Wm. Jones, Mrs. Alexander, J. W.
Wiser, Mrs. S. A. Robie, H. P. Nunn, Mrs. G. W. Whitfield, County Judge
J. C. Tully, Austin Tindall, R. G.
Calderwell, Tom C. Leach, and J. Wheeler Campbell. These are not property owners, all of them, but are either occupants, agents or owners.

Up to noon time this afternoon no one of the twelve cases had been occided by the court.

AT THE PARK.

The Sun is requested to say that the interruptions which occurred last night at La Belle Park will not happen again.
A card fully explaining the matter was sent to The Sun, but too late for this issue. A play especially suitable for labor day will be put on for a matinee Monday. A good bill is promised.

NEARING THE END

Believed Next Week Will See Dreyfus Case Closed.

The Evidence Today Was Fairly to the Accused—What a Verdict Means.

RENNES, France, Sept. 2.—Major Hartman, the expert artilleryist, and one of the strongest champions of Dreyfus, resumed his testimony of the opening of the court-martial today. The witness explained there was no secret about the "1202 gun" or hydraulic brake. He said in 1890, a civil employee named Bourtonnet betrayed a description of the brake to German agents. A year later public tests of the gun were held and a description of it printed and sold. Labori then began questioning General Delye. He put his questions so skillfully that soon the old general found himself agreeing with Major Hartman in many points and disagreeing with the views of Mercier, Gonse and Rogee. "Could the general believe the terms employed in the bordereau would allow any one to suppose the document had been written by Dreyfus or any artillery officer?" asked Labori. "No," replied Delye, and then growing more positive he added, "never on my soul and conscience can I believe so." This change of front on the part of Delye caused a sensation. It was evident he is uncertain as to the prisoner's guilt. On Wednesday Delye's testimony tended to show Dreyfus could have been the author of the bordereau.

Prof. Louis Havet also gave important testimony for Dreyfus. He examined the bordereau from a linguistic standpoint and testified to the peculiar use of words in it. These indicated, he said, the document was written by a foreigner like Esterhazy instead of native Frenchman like Dreyfus. He also said errors like those in the bordereau had been found in letters of Esterhazy, while he never found them in letters of the accused. At the request of Labori the letters which passed between Pic-quart and Gonse at the time of the former's discovery regarding Esterhazy were read in court. These showed Gonse's uncertainty as to authorship of the bordereau and how he advised Picquart to cautiously investigate Esterhazy. Picquart asked Gonse if he did not believe Dreyfus innocent in 1896, but Gonse refused to answer.

Labori's further questioning brought up a plot which was supposed to have been conducted by Henry and Picquart to ruin Picquart and shield Esterhazy, but Gonse answered evasively.
Major Lamotte testified there were strong reasons for the military chiefs ascribing a new date to the bordereau in order to incriminate Dreyfus.
Under alleged first date of the bor-dereau he could have mentioned the Manoeuvres, Rogee, Mercier and Delye denied the suggestion.
Court then adjourned till Monday.
The Dreyfus trial is rapidly drawing to a close. The witnesses will probably finish their testimony Monday, and the verdict is expected before the end of next week. What that verdict will be is still involved in the greatest uncertainty. Both sides are disappointed at the absence of new and striking evidence, and neither side is sure of the result.

It looks as if the best the Dreyfus army can hope for is a compromise verdict of "not proven," which would leave the intimation that the evidence pointed to Dreyfus as the guilty man, but was not sufficiently strong to convict him. Such a verdict would mean a new trial, and would save the honor of the army. It would also give Dreyfus his liberty, though his connection with the army would cease, and might satisfy his friends so that they would be willing to leave it to time to vindicate the man.

The political situation in France is such that most of the Dreyfusards admit that a free acquittal would be impossible. It would not only mean the instant overthrow of the present ministry when the Chamber met, but probably of the present form of government.

legal holiday and Labor Day the L. C.

WILL HAVE ORDER.

Mayor Lang Expresses Himself in Regard to the Speakings

"I want it understood," said Mayor Lang this morning to a Sun reporter, "that no disorder or any kind will be tolerated at the public speakings at Paducah, especially in Yeiser park, where the stand and benches are owned by the city."
"Whenever a man comes to Paducah to speak, if he conducts himself as a gentleman, he is entitled to a respectful hearing, and this he shall have if I have my way about it. Last night I had four extra police officers at the court house to preserve order, and we had no trouble except from one man, whom I persuaded to desist myself."
"Whenever a man comes to Paducah to speak, if he desires to say anything, he is entitled to a hearing, and he can ask for a division of time.
They will not be permitted to interrupt the speaker, and this might as well be understood now."

POLICE COURT.

Only a Short Session This Morning Before Judge Sanders.

There was little business in the police court this morning.

ance at Bohannon's saloon, was fined $5 and costs.

Kill Broyles and John Howell, for engaging in a ten minutes contest at Second and Broadway yesterday morning over a horse trade, were fined $5
and costs.

Elas Howell, for a plain drunk, was fined $1 and costs.

court house on the issues of the day. Judge Pratt was a candidate for the republican nomination for Governor and is the Republican nominee for Attorney-General. He is a gentleman of refinement and ability and a good orator. He should be heard by everybody who appreciates a good, fair discourse, free from personalities and billing-gate.

DEATH OF JAMES MATTISON.

Mr. James Mattison, a well-known resident of the city, died this afternoon at 1 o'clock, after a several weeks' illness from fever, at the family residence on the corner of Seventh and Husbands street. Mr. Mattison was aged about fifty years. He was the eldest son of the Mr. Mattison who established the Emblon Pace garden, so well remembered by the older residents of Paducah, and was a native of the city. He was last but one of his immediate family, the remaining member being Mr. Joe Mattison, who owns the garden on the property of his father and who is a respected member of the school board.
Mr. Mattison leaves a wife and no children. He was a member of the Woodman of the World and his funeral will likely occur tomorrow afterorder. The burial will be at Oak Grove cemetery, in the family lot.

Recharges that they took $200 from

HABEAS CORPUS

W. A. Freeman's Attorney Tries
To Get Him Out of Jail.

Judge Husbands Made an Order of Release—Changed His Mind.

Yesterday afternoon County Physician J. W. Pendley and Dr. J. G. Brooks recommended that Walter A. Freeman, a young man in the county jail here charged with stealing wheat in Marshall county, and brought here with Horace Powell, three weeks ago to prevent friends in Benton from assisting him to break jail, be released, saying under each that it was a case of consumption, and would not live three months, in their opinion, in confinement, and not six months out of jail.

Upon this recommendation Circuit Judge Husbands issued an order of release, but before Freeman was turned out of jail, Judge Husbands was consulted by other attorneys, and convinced that there was some doubt as to his authority to order the release of Freeman in this manner.

Attorney William Reed, for the prisoner, proceeded regularly, then took a writ of habeas corpus, and the trial was set for 10 o'clock this morning before Judge Husbands.
Freeman was taken before Judge Husbands this morning at 10 o'clock, and the writ of habeas corpus case was tried at Judge Husbands' office. Attorney Reed and Crossland represented him and after the statement of the physicians was read, Judge Husbands made an order that Freeman be released on his own recognizance to answer at the next term of court in Benton, in the sum of $500.

Freeman is certainly a pitiable specimen, and looks like he is half dead now.
After the papers were all drawn up, he affixed his signature, and he was told that he was discharged from custody and could go.

Before he could leave, however, he was arrested by U. S. Deputy Marshal La Rue on a warrant charging him with complicity in the Calvert City post office robbery, for which his partner, Horace Powell, was held to answer by Commissioner Puryear on Tuesday.
He did not evince much surprise at the appearance of the officer, but it was easily discerned that he was sorely disappointed at the turn affairs had taken. He had his friends here to take him home, and was doubtless conjuring up pleasant visions of home and freedom when the officer did his duty.

Freeman was released at Benton on bond and before he was taken into custody. His bondsmen became frightened and surrendered him, and after that he was unable to execute it.
Freeman was taken before Commissioner Puryear immediately, and the trial of the case set for Thursday next at the government building.
In default of bond he went back to jail.

that they had reason to believe that they were not enrolled in the city

THE SPEAKING

Gathering of Fully 500 Heard Messrs. Sweeney and Hallam.

The Gentlemen Had Close Attention and Relegated Their Hearts With Strong Talks.

A crowd estimated by conservative persons present as not less than five hundred listened last night to the speeches delivered at Yeiser park by Messrs. Sweeney and Hallam in behalf of the Brown ticket and honest Democracy. In the crowd were a number of ladies who listened most attentively to the gentlemen.
Mr. Sweeney was the first to speak and what he had to say of the Goebel ticket and the fight within the Democratic ticket was plenty. He talked for an hour and a half and without question delivered one of the best political speeches ever heard in the place. What he had to say covered the contest and left the Goebel Democrats little to stand upon and less to depend upon in the way of a leader than the general public had thought.
The speech will not fail to bring forth fruit, and that this is the promise is indicated by the a huge and misrepresentation to be heard among the Goebelites today.

Mr. Hallam followed Mr. Sweeney and also made a strong talk, but it is not unfair to say that Sweeney is the best talker, or so proved himself last night, and that he left little for Mr. Hallam to say. He however held his hearers to a late hour and the crowd seemed loth to leave.

The Sun would like to print a synopsis of these speeches just to keep the interest in the contest up, but they were too long, and then much said can be given room later and when the interest is perhaps warmer. The paper is free to say, to answer a question asked today, that the crowd was a large one which heard these speeches and the one which heard Messrs. Goodnight and Redwine, and that the attention was closer and lasted longer. The reception of the speeches too was more flattering to last night's speakers than it was to their predecessors.

A great many of the German citizens have become enraged at what they heard Mr. Sweeney said about "the dutch." These people who have taken offense are in most instances men who were not there, but who have heard a garbled report of the speaking from some Goebelite.
What was said about Mr. Goebel as a Pennsylvania Dutchman was not in any way offensive, as will be attested by any fair-minded person who heard the remarks. Mr. Sweeney is too intelligent a man to face such an audience as he had last night and say anything that would offend the people of any nationality.

a pleasant and well spent day.

A celebration will be held at La Belle Park which will consist largely of a day with sports. The affair will be under the auspices of the Leathand will give the people a day of re-

CLIMBED TO VICTORY.

Americans Attack Filipinos in Their Mountain Fort.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The following was received from Gen. Otis this morning: "Hughes, the commander at Iloilo, transmits the following: Lieut. Colonel Bryne, on August 31, destroyed Aragona, an important bandit stronghold, killing twenty-one; wounding many and capturing large quantities of supplies, and a complete outfit including shells, bolos, spears, etc. The fort was remarkable, as the town is accessible only by a road with almost perpendicular slope, and constantly under fire one thousand feet. One officer and two men were struck by boulders rolled down on them, but not seriously hurt. No casualties reported. The bandit strength was four hundred."

"The political purificationists want the voters to follow their words and not their deeds," says the Owensboro Messenger. Better than that to follow the Goebelites and be party wreckers, nominee stealers, violators of person and, in some instances, takers of life.

"Mr. Urey Woodson, in an interview, says the interest in the democratic ticket is unusually active for this stage of the campaign," says the Louisville Times. It would seem Mr. Woodson is right, for from all parts of the state come flattering accounts of Brown's prospects.

The Leader admits that there will be 500 voters in this—the old Gibraltar district for Brown. Of course the number will be five times as large as the Leader says, but that is an admission which it has all along been denying. But what becomes with the solid vote in the old First the Goebelites have been prating about.

The Leader says the Sun has forgotten that its party has a nominee for governor. The Leader may be so silly to think this, but the Sun will drop it there and there it is not getting its first lesson in politics by a good deal and that it knows two ways to choke a dog to death, as the Leader may learn if it lives as long as the Sun has. But the Sun, dear Leader, has as much right to speak well for Mr. Brown as you have to abuse him—neither belong to the Brown faction and therefore neither has any particular right to meddle in its affairs. The Sun prefers Mr. Brown to Mr. Goebel as a second choice and therefore takes him as such. By the by, has the Leader a second choice and is it Mr. Brown or Mr. Taylor?

Says the Elkhorn Progress, one of the farthest of the Goebel press: "It is said that Mr. P. W. Hardin, late candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, will not make any speeches for Mr. Goebel and the ticket. That may be Gen. Hardin's decision, but we prefer seeing it in print over the general's signature before believing it." Why not believe the statement as an open one? Does the Progress or any fair-minded paper expect Mr. Hardin to endorse a nomination which was stolen outright from him, as Captain Stone indirectly if not directly admits, though a party to the theft? The Progress cannot think Mr. Hardin has so little of the manhood in him? If so it made a grievous mistake in supporting him for the high office he sought.

The Hickman Courier is a candid and therefore an honest democratic paper. Making an indirect shot at the holding in Hickman and Fulton counties, the gubernatorial race being no doubt in the mind, the Courier says: "What's the use of holding democratic conventions to nominate a representative for Fulton and Hickman counties. To be sure that's the old time custom. But, in these latter days many go into these conventions and feel justified in refusing to vote for the nominee if he happens not to be their first choice." Again, and with much more credit to its wisdom, the Courier says, in this remark knocking into a cocked hat one of the planks of the platform it supports in advocating, even as mildly as it does, the Louisville ticket: "We do not know whether freeholder is relegated to the wall, or whether it is in front, or on the bottom, or in the middle, we do know that the finances of the country are now on the gold basis, nor is it even remotely probable that it will be disturbed so long as present conditions of solvency and prosperity continue."

STILL KICKING ON REDWINE

The Grayson Gazette objects to Goebel filing Redwine as an exhibit in Goebel's defense, and makes this protest: "If Blackburn and Goebel want to excuse Redwine they had better send him home; that is about the only way it can be done. The people of Kentucky saw enough of Redwine in Louisville, and it would be far better for Goebel were he soon forgotten, rather than placed upon exhibit again."

The Owen News wants the campaign managers against the continued appearance of this mountain Judge. The News says: "Redwine should go home and stay there. It is following the non-issues around over the state will do the ticket no good. He is either an ass or a knave, and the people are not interested enough to be bothered in making the distinction."

The Lexington Leader adds: "Goebel, censured and condemned by all impartial men for his ruling at the Louisville convention, poor Redwine is now told by Goebel organs to go back to your mountain fastnesses and stay there. Your presence endangers the success of our ticket."

"If the mere puppet or fighead is so odious and offensive to the people, what should be said of what ought the public to think of the author, instigator and beneficiary of the whole perfidious business."

"It is well known that Goebel sat upon the stage of the convention hall and directed every move that was made. Redwine was only an automaton in his hands. He had his cue and all that was necessary was that Goebel should nod his head and his will was executed."

"The people are not able to see the difference between Redwine and Goebel, and if Redwine was guilty of flagrant wrong doing, why should he be punished and Goebel rewarded? It is cruel to banish Redwine to the mountains and allow Goebel, the author of all the wickedness, to remain at large, endangering the success of the ticket."

AN EMPEROR'S OBSTINACY.

It comes from Berlin that the emperor will take no action upon the work of the peace congress. There will be no public proclamation to this effect, as the emperor desires that good will of the czar, but the government will simply refuse to ratify the work done at the conference, and there let the matter rest.

The importance of this bit of news will be appreciated when it is recalled that Germany, from the standpoint of armament, is the greatest military power of the world. There can be no concerted action of European powers without the sanction of the German emperor. If he refuses to be bound by the resolutions the work goes for naught.

The emperor never favored the conference. He predicted, what his knee comes to pass, that its work would materially strengthen the bonds between England and America, a union view of which the greatest apprehension by all continental powers. In view of that it will be the purpose of the German military emperor to nullify as far as lies in his power, all the good work done by a great congress.

He may hinder the wheels of progress for a time, but in the end he will have to put himself in line of those who would mitigate the horrors of war if possible.

A GOEBELITE CLAIM.

"I am from Murray and there's not a Brown man there," said a Goebel blow hard yesterday, in the presence of several men all of whom say they will vote for the nominee. "Oh, that's not," said one of his hearers. "I was there myself only a few days ago and I found several Brownites, and they are some of the best known democrats in the place, too." "You can't find them today," meekly replied the first speaker. "I would wager a half hundred on that proposition," said the second speaker. There was no offer to take this wager, of course, and the conversation changed into such remarks as name your men, etc. The second speaker, who knows the people well, replied by giving names almost as fast as he could call them, and the first one laughingly admitted that there are a number of old fogies in Murray who are going to vote for Brown but that there are not as many of them as there are people who will vote for Goebel. And this is the average claim of the Goebel boosters and about what truth there is in what they say.

SHOULD MUZZLE HIM.

Hartford Republican: Jo Blackburn said in a recent speech "I will bet my soul's salvation against a counterfeit coin, that the republicans if given the power would not repeal the Goebel election law." If the Goebel election law really insured fair elections Mr. Blackburn pays the republicans a great compliment when he says they will not repeal a law which he claims was passed to keep them from stealing the state, but in point of fact, Blackburn meant to tell his audience that the republicans would utilize the Goebel election law to steal elections with Goebel caught to muzzle the windy ex-senator.

MR. GOEBEL'S CHANCES.

Grayson Tribune: If the revolt of the gold democrats in Kentucky two and one-half years ago was considered a big thing, what would you call the anti-Goebel movement that is now on in this state? It is ten times stronger than the former, and there is not a democrat in this county that entertains the slightest hope of Goebel's success at the polls in November.

CENTRALIZATION

Is a Bugaboo to Democrats, but They, Nevertheless, Practice It, and That is What Goebellism Means, if Anything.

Somerset Paragon: The Goebelites are running about the country crying that they are opposed to centralization of government. Of all the cries that ever were made that is the most deceitful and hypocritical. If any people on earth are working and laboring for centralization these people are Goebellized democrats. Goebellism is one-manism from start to finish and through and through. Goebellism wants everything to be run, owned and controlled by Goebel. When men or things are standing in the way of the Kenton county boss, and his schemes to get absolute control of the strings, they must hinder up and get out of his way or stand a chance for destruction by absolute force or fraud or by vile and libelous slander.

The late Louisville democratic state convention was a fine sample of centralization, brought about by force and fraud. Every act of that convention was by Goebel touching a button while his plant toiled the rest.

The Chinn school book bill is an other essence of the Goebel scheme for centralization. That bill bears the name of a son of Jack Chinn, but we suppose all will agree that Goebel is its father. The plan of that bill is to take away from the people nearly $500,000 worth of school books for which they have paid their money, and force us all to buy books from a state printer, and of course that printer must be run by the Goebellites. That bill is the kind of cheap school books we would have if their schemes voted in by the people.

The Goebel railroad bill is nothing but centralization. If it is absolute and arbitrary power is given into the hands of three railroad commissioners to fix all prices of freight. If these commissioners happen to be friends of the people they might do well for the people, but if they are bought, owned and controlled by a railroad, or the railroads, they would work only harm for the people, and be a constant menace to the people's rights. Is not that the most dangerous kind of centralization?

The Goebel election law is the vilest the narrowest and most contact case of centralization imaginable. It puts the whole of the election machinery into the hands of three commissioners, and those three commissioners have control of the election machinery of every county in the state, and if they or their appointees should commit the vilest frauds there is no clause or sentence of the law that tries out to them punishment, and they have therefore nothing to fear, even though they steal the whole state for a boss. We say a boss, but it is generally understood that the controlling power of the three commissioners will be in "the boss," if he should be elected governor. To be centrally centralized that. Don't you think so?

Fact these bills are but the result of a conspiracy for centralization of certain forces into the hands of a few men that will give them almost absolute power in state government, and they will have but to "beat" the men and corporations to run a u. n. a. of the cash the boss may need into channels that will squeeze it into his coffers.

DEMAND FOR A FAIR COUNT

Louisville Commercial: General Taylor's speech at Grayson the other day was a powerful statement of the supreme issue in the pending political campaign in Kentucky. It comprised far warning to the people of the state as to what they may expect for the future if William Goebel shall be elevated to the governorship next November and supported during his term of office by a legislature under his control. It was an analysis of the Goebel election law which left no doubt in the minds of his hearers of the iniquity of that measure and of the possibilities of disfranchisement under the operation of the existing statute.

In the same speech General Taylor formulated his demand for a fair count of the votes to be cast at the state election in Kentucky this year, and in terms which can not fail to deeply impress the whole people, announced his determination if he could invoke the might of the honest citizenship of the state in defense of its own rights and its own liberties, to have exactly that kind of a count, and no other. Very positively, however, General Taylor declared that the battle he is making throughout the length and breadth of his native state is not for the advancement of his individual ambitions, and everybody who has been familiar with his attitude in the canvass for the gubernatorial nomination knows that this is true. He has earned the right to say that he is in this campaign merely as the agent and representative of a free people whose liberties are in jeopardy and for whom he stands ready at any moment to sacrifice his personal interests and ambitions.

It is a solemn truth that General Taylor is this year leading the battle of the people rather than a campaign of his own or of the Republican party. His demand for a fair count is a demand that the right of suffrage shall be respected in Kentucky rather than a demand that the votes be honestly counted to the end that he may be governor. His plea is for the honor of his native state rather than for official place for himself and his associates on the Republican ticket, and standing upon this platform he is entitled to the unanimous and unwavering support of every true citizen of Kentucky to the other without regard to their previous party affiliations. He has a right to call upon a citizenship threatened with disfranchisement for a supreme effort to save itself.

We believe General Taylor will not appeal in vain to the people of Kentucky to stand back of him in his insistence that the ballots they shall cast at the election in November, shall be counted exactly as they are cast. We believe they have already determined that every election commissioner in the state shall answer directly to them for the honest conduct of the approaching election, and that individual election commissioners will undertake to satisfy the actual results of that election at their personal peril. We believe the response by the people to General Taylor's earnest appeal to them to preserve their liberties will be in the nature of an uprising against which the Goebel centralizationists will recognize the folly not to say the danger, of contending. We have determined upon actual participation in the election this year. Mr. Goebel and his election law and its election commissioners to the contrary, notwithstanding.

HE'S FOR BROWN.

County Judge Elmore, of Graves, Disgusted With Goebel.

MAYFIELD, Ky., Sept. 2.—The inauguration of Candidate Goebel as to Theodore H. Brown's brother has aroused the indignation of the ex-confederate soldiers against Mr. Goebel, and will make many votes for the Hon. John Young Brown.

County Judge Stephen Elmore, who has heretofore taken no part in the contest, and who would probably have voted for Goebel, though under protest, is today bitter against the Louisville nominee and his methods of getting votes.

It is safe to say that very few ex-confederate soldiers in this county will vote for Goebel when they come to understand his way of electioneering. Goebel's methods are making many votes for the Brown ticket.

Observations ...at Random.

Post Office Inspector Kyle, of In dianapolis, has been here a day or two investigating the post office robbery at Maxon's Mills last week.
Yesterday he was the victim of a laughable mistake, but need not say, he enjoyed it as much as any one else.

He went with Horace Powell, the youth held over a day or two ago by Commissioner Puryear for robbing the post office at Maxon's Mills, to have his photograph made for the government gallery. Uncle Sam always has pictures made of such of fenders, and takes measurements of them in the most modern and ap proved style.

Powell is a fairly good looking young fellow—and so is the genial post office inspector. When the deputy marshal, inspector and pris oner made their appearance at the photographer's, the officer briefly explained the purpose of their visit to have a post office robber pho tographed for the government.

The photographer prepared his ap paratus while the trio waited.
"All ready, gentlemen," he an nounced presently. Then turning to the officer he innocently inquired, "Which one is it you want photo graphed?"

Even the prisoner had the laugh on the inspector.

When Paducah business men got a move on themselves they are hustlers.
The only thing about it is that they are a little hard to get a move on.
They are a little slow in getting interested. Three days ago, although a street fair had been talked of for several weeks, few people believed that the project would not be an utter failure. One paper even pro moted to announce that it had failed through. But it had not. The busi ness men were appealed to through the papers and answered nobly. In a short time nearly $4,000 was raised by those present, and of course there are many others who will willingly give to help the fair along. It showed conclusively that Paducah is not be hind in anything tending to promote her welfare. As to the success of the fair—well, that is a matter for the future. They will be given all over the country this fall, and the crowd that will be here will be bigger than Bu falo Bill and all other "biggest shows on earth" combined could draw in a month. It will be a typi cal street fair, and everything to be found at other street fairs will be on exhibition here. Many of the at to be held just before the one here, can come directly here after the one there closes. Everybody should join in and help make the fair a joint success.

A peculiar character is "Brook," a negro charged in the police court yesterday with conspiring to incite mutiny on board the "Red River."
"Brook" has been running on the rivers for 18 years, and what he don't know about boats and rivers simply hasn't been found out.

He gives his testimony in a very em phatic manner, gesticulating wildly while giving the court the facts, and occasionally rising excitedly in his seat. His maneuvers were so ludicrous that even his honor had to conceal his smiles behind his spacious palm-leaf until the voluble witness could be temporarily squelched. His climaxes were intensely interesting, and his peroration an effort to long to be com mended by the appreciative spectators as he held aloft his ponderous paws and exclaimed, "An' Judge, dat's de truf. I swah it am!"

Next week will be a busy one about the county court house. The build ing, which presents the appearance of being new both inside and out, will be thronged with the yeomanry of Mc Cracken county, for the criminal term of McCracken circuit court and the regular term of county court will be in session.

It is anticipated that politics will overshadow everything, and there will be plenty of people to talk 'em, and plenty of 'em to be talked. There are no celebrated murder cases to be tried, and little of a sensational nature to come up, but notwithstanding there will be an abundance of things outside of politics to keep interest from lag ging—and then the grand jury always makes warm times.

If there are any young men fond of hunting and fishing, they will find this a convenient time to take a trip.
It is a good season for both. Those who don't care to hunt or fish will find the neighboring summer resorts still open.

The camp meeting at Brooklyn con tinues to draw immense crowds.
Whether the people go to these meet ings to do penance, get religion or to have a good time is something that would be difficult to guess. It would be more correct, no doubt, to say that some went for one thing and some for another. There is really nothing at tractive about a camp meeting except the crowd—and the fleas and other at tentional insects that abound in the woody, leafy rural regions. The meet ing at Brooklyn will last forever if the people continue to take enough interest in it.

Speaking of fleas recalls the story of how Rev. C. A. Owens' protracted meeting was broken up in the country several months ago. A revival was started at a little church in the coun try and large crowds began attending.
The interest manifested was intense, but the crowd began diminishing, and those who continued coming were very restless, and often could be seen to spasmodically clutch their person in Finally some of the good brethren went to the person and confidentially told him what their wives and daughters had said and it dawned on the person that the fleas had about driven off his congregation, for most people can do without religion with more satisfac tion than they can put up with fleas.

It was then learned that a drove of hogs had made a rendezvous under the little church, and it was literally alive with the pestiferous insects. The meeting was declared off until some more auspicious date.

HONORS FOR TERRY.

Kentucky Captain Soon to Be come a Rear Admiral.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Capt.
C. F. Goodrich, of the cruiser Newark, has been detached from that command, and today will assume command of the battleship Iowa, relieving Capt. Terry, who is ordered home on waiting orders.
At the same time the command of the Newark will devolve upon Capt. B. H.
McCallan. It is expected Capt. Terry will soon be promoted to the rank of rear admiral.

The Capt. Terry mentioned is a Ken tuckian. He was born and reared in Trigg county, and has many relatives in the southwestern towns of the state.
He has been an honored officer in the navy for a long period of years.

WIRELETS.

Action has been taken by the state department for the protection of Americans and their interests in the Transvaal in case of war between Great Britain and the Boer republic.
Instructions sent by Secretary Hay today to Consul Charles E. Macrum, stationed at Pretoria, direct him to vigilantly watch developments in the situation and their effect upon American citizens and their interests, and to provide them with all necessary protection in case a conflict should place them in danger.

Governor Bradley has appointed Fred H. Roberts police judge of Owens boro to fill the vacancy caused by Judge Pendleton's death. This will result in a clash of authority, as the Owensboro council has selected J. S.

will take the case to the courts.

LITERARY CHAT.

'Tis not the blossoms that crowd the branch
And cluster in early spring,
But the blossoms that stay Through the chilly day
To grow into fruit and cling,
That blush with the pride of harvest tide,
For the bounty which they bring.

'Tis not the friends that will crowd about
In revel of wine and song,
But the hands that clasp When the bitter grasp
Of sorrow has gripped us long, Whose touch is warm when the hand of harm
Has chilled with a wee or wrong.

'Tis not the loves that are clustered about
In the light of a lovely day,
But the loves that live For the love it gives
And the fruit it bears away, Whose truth we keep—while the others sleep
In the dreams of idle play.

—F. A. COLLIER, in National Magazine.

The new Lippincott for September certainly deserves some special men tion. It is a reproduction of America's yacht, Columbia.
There are many attractive stories and articles in this number. A por trait of the late Robert Bonner, found er of the monthly, accompanied with sketch, appear in this issue.

It is somewhat peculiar that two of our prominent magazines should publish almost simultaneously an article on the late Edward Noyes Westcott, entitled "The Author of David Harum." After all it would seem, as of old, that in order to be come famous a man must first die.

"The International Congress of Women," by Charlotte Perkins Stetson, is the leading article in the September Atlantic's magazine. "The Mayor of San Francisco" is full of interest also. There are quite a num ber of short stories in this issue.

The only Japanese woman fiction writer in this country, Miss Onoto Watanna, of Chicago, contributes a story of current interest to the current issue of Frank Leslie's Monthly.
She has contributed to some of the leading magazines and published one book, "Miss Nanie of Japan." She comes of a very talented family. We would be pleased to see more of her work.

The September number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly, has an ar ticle on Admiral Schley that is well worth perusing. While so much is being written and said about Admiral Dewey, a word of praise now and then for the hero of Santiago de Cuba, will perhaps not be amiss. Among other stories and articles, the one of "America's Cup Defenders," is timely and interesting.

If one might believe in the exist ence, at the present day, of such a monster as that of Lake Lametrie, spoken of in Pearson's Magazine for September, I don't believe that many of us would desire an acquaintance with it. This is only one of a variety of well written articles on many sub jects and good stories.

Each month marks an advance in the appearance and matter of the Woman's Home Companion. The current issue certainly surpasses all its previous numbers. The cover is attractive and some of the illustra tions unsurpassed. Such writers as Josiah Allen's Wife, John Kendrick Bangs, Edward Page Gaston, Onoto Watanna and many others, contrib ute to its pages.

Edward Markham, author of "The Man with the Hoe," has written a poem on Cretus, making him a nar cissus. Perhaps he had better wait until his subject had been proven a hero and martyr. We can not say at present of his guilt or in nocence, but at its conclusion time will remain to honor him.

There are some people posing as po ets and writers who have the least possible talent. It were better if some one told them of their want of talent, and thus save the labors of many tired editors. The idea is com mon among some people that any one can write if they only try. The con sequence is that their egotism for ever after prevents the truth from entering their heads.

SAMPSON TO QUIT.

After Dewey Celebration He Will Give Up His Squadron

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—At the conclusion of the Dewey celebration at New York Admiral Sampson will be relieved of the command of the North Atlantic squadron. This ac tion is to be taken at the request of the admiral. He will be assigned to shore duty, probably in command of one of the navy yards.

In considering the selection of Ad miral Sampson's successor as com mander-in-chief of the North Atlantic station, the navy department has practically narrowed the field down to two names. It has been found that as the policy to be followed, that the commanders of fleets and stations shall be reserved, wherever practi cable, for the nine rear admirals of the first grade. It has been found that of these officers who are not a ready on sea service or about to retire shortly, there are three names: Romey, in command at Portsmouth; Farquhar, commandant at Norfolk; and Schley, president of the retiring board. Farquhar has been the long est on continuous shore duty, and it is indicated here that either he or Romey is to succeed Sampson.

CAN USE DISCRETION.

U. S. Deputy Marshal M. W. La Rue this morning received an order from Louisville directing him to take Sam

Silvey is the farmer held over by Com missioner Puryear Monday on a charge of pension frauds committed in Hop kins county.

HAD NO KNIFE.

The Sun a few days since printed an article clipped from a Louisville paper and no doubt sent by some prejudiced correspondent, giving an account of a fight in Fulton between Editor Paschall, of the Guard, and Mr. Sam Norman, an ex-sheep of Graves county. The item said that Paschall retired after being slapped by Norman and later slipped up on Norman and attacked him with a knife. The Guard of this week gives an account of the trouble and the Sun reprints a part out of justice to Mr. Paschall, who seems to have been unjustly accused in what was pre viously printed: "Here is what the eye-witnesses say who saw the affair.
Jim Milner, clerk at Knight's hotel:
'I saw Norman slap Paschall, and saw Paschall draw back to hit him.' Gus Covington, traveling salesman:
'I was present at the time the trouble between Paschall and Norman began, and was one of the three men who held Paschall and prevented him from hitting Norman.' Chas. Payne, law yer: 'I was present and saw Paschall walk up in front of Norman a few seconds later and hit him in the face with his fist. The second lick Pas chall struck Norman fell. Together with two other gentlemen we pulled Paschall off Norman and stopped the fight. Paschall had no knife; Ab McCall, merchant Dukeston, held Norman while Paschall was pulled off of him. Paschall used nothing but his fist.' Dick La Rue, conduct or: 'I separated Paschall and Nor man Tuesday and was quite amused at the way the thing ended. The big man stood no show. Paschall had no knife—only a left fist.'"

CITY GOING BANKRUPT.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.—Bank ruptcy is staring the municipal gov ernment of Columbus in the face, and by October 1 they will be com pelled to shut up shop unless some arrangement is made to secure fund ing. At this time it is predicted that the deficiencies in all departments will approximate over $200,000 at the end of the year. There now remains $8,297 to run the government the remainder of the year.

The negro rioters are surrendering in squads at Darrem, Ga., and military posses are still searching the swamps.
The streets around the courthouse are

We must make room for fall goods, so have decided for the next thirty days to sell goods at your own price. This is no advertising dodge, but a bona fide sale. If you need a new white or black sailor for early fall wear, or one of those new felt hats that are now so popular, come in, and we will astonish you with low prices at THE BAZAAR.

If your hat needs a little remodeling or a little new trimming, a little money will freshen it up wonderfully; so bring it in and give us an opportunity to show what we can do in the way of making an old hat look new.

Getting on The Inside

The outward appearance of tailor-made clothing is usually good. That depends on the tailor--but it's the inside that should be taken into consideration. Pretty near time to think about that Fall Suit, isn't it? Not quite so busy now as we will be later on; have more time to be sure everything is perfect. Drop in and examine the fall cuttings.
